National heroism awards

An ovation was accorded Wayne Fry, 244 Washington Ave., and Fred McCauley, 2829 Idaho Ave., at last week's meeting of United Steelworkers at the Labor Temple as they accepted I. W. Abel national awards for industrial valor.

The awards, named after former Steelworkers President Abel, recognize efforts to save a fellow worker's life at the risk of one's own life.

Before a capacity audience, Davis described the response by craneerman McCauley and crane helper Fry of Local 16 when a barge began breaking in two May 19 at a loading dock at the Tri-City Regional Port.

Joseph Gregg of Local 30 had been working in the hold of the barge and would have been killed by the shifting load and onrushing water had not Fry, whose hobby is scuba diving, descended on a crane cable to pull him to the surface, it was related. McCauley was credited with skilled and prompt utilization of the crane controls.

Davis reviewed United Steelworkers activities to achieve improved working conditions, and outlined the work of the national Union's Safety and Health Department.

Area ready for tricks-or-treats

By KATHY SMALL
of the Press-Record

With Halloween fast approaching, area police have asked parents of trick or treaters to restrict their children's neighborhood calls to a three hour period, between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. Wednesday.

Police Chiefs Ronald Veizer of Granite City, Donald Bridick of Madison and Farris Smith have called for cooperation by the public that night.

Numerous activities in the Halloween theme are taking place this week. The March of Dimes Metro East Chapter is operating a "haunted house" at 3206 Nameoki Road in the Belleme Village Shopping Center. Hours tonight through Wednesday will be 6 to 10. Proceeds will be used for research to (Continued on Page 4)

Challenge club interest in store

John W. Perdue appealed Friday to members of the Madison Lions Club not to authorize purchase of the building at which the Perdue Furniture Co. sells household furnishings and appliances at 1121 Madison Ave.

The brother of James Perdue, who was slain by a robber in the store last winter, John Perdue said he wants to continue operation of the furniture store. He charged that a small number of Lions members negotiated secretly for the property without the knowledge and consent of the entire club.

He said in a letter to club members, "The constitution of the Lions Club requires that members be notified and a vote taken by the full membership before such a purchase can be approved.

"When and if you get a chance to vote on the purchase, I appeal to you to take a long, hard look at the way this was conducted."

"Why wasn't the membership aware of what was going on? Why wasn't this purchase brought before the membership for a vote? Is your club controlled by a few members who run roughshod over the majority?"

"Was it really concern for the family when they played on emotions by offering to dedicate the building to Jim, if the family would just forget about the agreement with me and sell the property to the Lions?"

"I am sure the Lions are aware that a wounded employee's injuries have left him disabled, and that his livelihood depends on the business staying in operation."

"Is the acquisition of this building so important that the Lions would deprive one of Jim's closest friends and a fellow Lion of the means of supporting his family?"

"Do you think that after all the years of effort Jim put into keeping this business going, he would like to see it put out of business by the club? Do the Lions want to take a taxpaying property and business off the tax rolls of the City of Madison?"

Volunteer scouts honored

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

Six local volunteer Boy Scout leaders of the Uniwah District, Cahokia Mound Council, were honored at a dinner Saturday evening in the cafeteria of Granite City High School South.

Those honored with the District Award of Merit were Mrs. Marilyn Tarasovich, Clifford Mathis, LeRoy Stark, James Graham, J. Patrick Busch and Mrs. Genevieve Hellrich. Tom Miosky was re-elected as the Uniwah District chairman. The district serves the Quad-City area.

Other district officers elected were David Nolan, vice-chairman for membership, Irvin Slate Jr. vice-chairman for finance, Larry Dunn vice-chairman for program and Fred Mercer, district commissioner.

Scout units honored with special plaques for support of the council were Troop 5 sponsored by the Nameoki Methodist Church, Troop 13 St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, Troop and Post 102 Suburban Baptist Church, Post 1678 St. Elizabeth Medical Center and Post 10-4 Madison Police Unit 110.

Cub Pack 46 of the Nameoki School PTA was presented the National Summertime Pack Award.

Boy Scout Troops 5 and 13 also received the National Camping Award of the Boy Scouts of America.

Scouter Training Awards were presented to Donald Hagen, committee member of Troop 12, Ronald Luebben, district committee member, and Charles Shane, committee member of Troop 5.

Mrs. Pat Foote, a member of the council executive board, received the Cub Leader Woodbadge.

The District Award of Merit, frequently referred to as the "Scout Oscar," requires service to the Boy Scout program above the normal responsibilities. It is the highest award a district may present a volunteer leader.

Robert Moske, who made the presentations, gave a brief summary of the volunteer leaders' scouting backgrounds.

Anti-inflation fight is called crucial

LAWRENCE ROOS

(Press-Record Photo by Gary Schneider)

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

Predictions that the current short money supply in the United States and high interest rate will curb runaway inflation, if people are patient, were made by Lawrence K. Roos, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, during Thursday night's 38th annual meeting of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce. A total of 325 persons attended the event.

Roos explained that the Federal Reserve, through the Federal Open Market Committee, of which he is a member, determines how much money will be on the market and available to banks to make consumer and home loans.

Increasing the supply of money available increases inflation, but decreasing the supply of money causes higher interest rates.

"If we are serious about controlling inflation, we need to establish a gradual and measured amount of growth. If we gradually bring down the rate of money growth, we gradually will bring down the rate of inflation."

"This is bound to bring up interest rates, especially in this time of credit demand," Roos said.

He noted the Federal Reserve Board, referred to as "the Fed," "used to feel an obligation to keep the interest rates from rising," so it kept pumping money into the economy, causing inflation.

"The Fed has an open bank account. We now have a portfolio of $100 billion," he added.

Eagles Auxiliary aids boys' ranch

Olivine Scott, Missouri State Eagles Auxiliary trustee, was presented sheets and towels for the Bar H Ranch at last week's meeting of the Granite City Eagles Auxiliary Unit 1126. The ranch, located at Nevada, Mo., is sponsored solely by the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Scott accepted the bed linens and towels from Shirley Robinson, president of the Granite City auxiliary, who was in charge of the meeting.

Accompanying Mrs. Scott were Aldine Brommelhorst.

Both women hold dual memberships in the Eagles Auxiliary 3638 of Florissant, Mo., and the Granite City auxiliary unit.

Another highlight of the session was the initiation into the local unit of Miss Tina Koehler and Mrs. Margaret Smith.

Reports were given by Helen Frazier, secretary, and Leona Delaloye, treasurer.

Nancy Mullen and Kathleen Reed announced the sale of two-year planning calendars. Proceeds will go to various charities supported by the Eagles.

Lola Barylske served refreshments during the social hour. Prizes were won by Nettie Koehler and Norma Hemken.

Closing meditations were offered by Eileen Rickert, chaplain.

1977 phone harassment law now backed by court

Legislation introduced by Rep. Everett G. Steele (R-Glen Carbon) to curb telephone harassment and abusive phone calls, just upheld by the Illinois Supreme Court as constitutional, was passed by the General Assembly and signed by Governor Thompson in 1977.

The legislation had been challenged in separate court cases in both Winnebago and Sangamon counties as unduly "vague" and "overbroad."

The Supreme Court's decision, however, issued in late Oct. 1979, upholds the legislation as sufficiently specific and valid and within constitutional requirements.

The Steele-sponsored measure lists five types of telephone harassment.

They include use of the telephone with intent to abuse, threaten or harass, the making of obscene or lewd suggestions over the phone, and the causing of the telephone of another individual to ring repeatedly with intent to harass. These violations are a class "B" misdemeanor, punishable by a $500 fine and possible incarceration.

In commenting on the Supreme Court's decision, Rep. Steele said, "I am gratified that the constitutionality of this law has been upheld."

"The people of our state need and deserve protection against abusive and threatening calls, which can invade the very privacy of an individual's home."

"We all believe in free speech, but no one should be able to abuse, threaten, harass or annoy over the phone in the name of freedom of speech."

"This law, which has not been tested in the courts, will preserve the use of the telephone for its essential, legitimate and intended purposes."

Debate on Morgan St. 'stormy?'

By GARY SCHNEIDER of the Press-Record

It will be a dark rainy day when a difference of opinion between Granite City Engineer Monroe Brewer and Fifth Ward Alderman Lloyd Bailey will be resolved.

The difference of opinion is over whether Morgan Street, recently reconstructed by the city, will drain or flood in a heavy rain.

Bailey contended Brewer designed the street reconstruction so water will go down the entire street, rather than the sides, and will accumulate at a low spot in the middle of the block.

All of the water from a paved parking lot, as well as water from a Route 3 holding pond will aggravate the problem, Bailey contended.

Brewer says the street was designed so the entire width will carry water to the catch basins at the low spot in the block and the city's storm water sewers will then "sweep the water away to the river." He said the state studied the plans and approved them.

The city engineer also said he had to work with two major restrictions when designing the reconstructed street. One was the existing sidewalks, which drop to the low spot, but were in too good a condition to tear up and rebuild.

The other was a financial consideration, since each yard had been allowed only $35,000 for street, gutters and sidewalk improvements and Morgan Street cost more than that to do, even keeping it at the lowest possible cost.

He contended the water running down the street should cause only a minor inconvenience for the few residents at the end of the block who will have to drive on the street during rains.

He said G.H. Sternberg Construction Co. had rebuilt Morgan Street exactly according to his specifications.

The question of whether the city should use contractors for blacktopping or should purchase its own blacktopping equipment was raised again, as it has been at numerous city council meetings in the past few years.

Brewer said he is against the idea of the city street department going into the blacktopping business, because there are very few experienced blacktop machine operators in the St. Louis area and their bosses "take very good care of them."

He said blacktopping can be very tricky to avoid streets which feel like "washboards."

Street Superintendent Lionel Fortell estimated he would need to add six people for a blacktopping crew, plus truck drivers, trucks and an asphalt machine, which could be purchased or rented.

Brewer said it now costs from $8,000 to $10,000 per block to get a contractor to blacktop, depending on the length of the block. But, he indicated, any money which may be saved by the city doing its own blacktopping may be offset by the quality of the streets when completed.

"There are just a lot of problems getting involved in it," he concluded.

Never the less, Alderman Warren Decatur of the Fourth Ward noted the finance committee still has funds earmarked from future revenue sharing allocations for the purchase of a blacktopping machine for the city.

In other business at the last council meeting, seven members of the Granite City Chapter of the Business and Professional Women's Club were welcomed to view the events as part of the club's Legislative Week.

Bids on printing of 21,750 vehicle tax stickers were referred to the finance committee for study. The lowest bid read was for $1,833.

A monthly report from AAA Credit Service showed that $667 in overdue ambulance bills was collected by the firm during September, of which the city will receive $371.

Raises were granted to two employees of the city's Air Pollution Control Department, despite objections by City Treasurer Nick Petrillo who said a job classification study done for the city suggests employees be on the job one year before being granted raises.

Alderman Fred "Pat" Schuman of the Second Ward argued on behalf of the raises, noting the two employees were under the Manpower program previously and had worked for the city for some time.

He also contended the state grant which helps fund the department assumes the employees will be paid fair salaries. The state is looking for some excuse not to renew the grant so the state can "take over" the control of the city's pollution control program, Schuman said, adding, "I believe we are much better off if we maintain local control of pollution control."

Alderman Sam Whitmer and Paul Pisk voted against the raises, but the motion to increase the two salaries was approved.

Deadline is Oct. 31 for new auto tags

Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon is reminding Illinois motorists with Oct. 31 automobile license expirations that they have only a few days to renew their registrations.

This is the second renewal month of the new multi-year staggered registration program in Illinois, which began with issuance of 1979 plates.

"If you have a license with a blue Oct. 31 sticker on the top left corner of your registration plate, you will need a renewal sticker on the upper right corner by 12:01 a.m. Nov. 1 to be legally registered," Dixon said.

Renewal stickers for Oct. 31 and Nov. 30 expirations are now being sold at many banks and savings and loan associations throughout Illinois. In addition, they may be purchased at Springfield, Ill., State offices in the central building and Dirksen Parkway and at major Motor Vehicle Service facilities in Chicago.

Under the new law for multi-year license plates, no deadline extensions may be made.

Reformation service here on Wednesday

The 462nd anniversary of the Protestant Reformation will be observed by the Lutheran churches of Granite City in a special Reformation service under the sponsorship of the Quad-Cities Lutheran Bureau at Concordia Church, 23rd Street and Grand Avenue, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Concordia Seminary Professor David Daniel will be in the pulpit to speak on "By Faith Alone," the central theme of the Lutheran Reformation.

Dr. Daniel specializes in Reformation history, having studied at Muehlenberg College, Concordia Seminary in Springfield, Pennsylvania State (Ph. D.), and as a Fulbright scholar at the University of Vienna.

He recently came to the St. Louis Seminary from the history department of Pennsylvania State. In 1975, he was Fulbright exchange teacher at the Hanover Lutheran Church.

Pastor Samuel Boda, Th. D., of St. John's and Pastor David Fielding of Hope Church will set the liturgists at the joint service and assist host Pastor Arvin Twietmeyer in the celebration of the Holy Communion for the three congregations, Hope, St. John's and Concordia.

A fellowship hour will be hosted by the Ladies Aid of Concordia under the direction of Mrs. Pat Cavar. Mrs. Sara Repp from Hope will be at the organ and Concordia's choir will sing Martin Luther's prayer, "Lord Keep Us Steadfast in Thy Word."

There is a calendar connection between Reformation Day and Halloween.

Pastor Twietmeyer said today, "Luther mailed his 95 theses on the door of the castle church of Wittenburg on the Eve of All Saints Day, Nov. 1, when a great number of worshippers would be using the door the next day for a major festival."

"That was a holy evening (hallowed eve) before that holy day, set aside for remembering the blessed dead — The Saints."

"And that night was supposed to be the time for the evil dead, ghosts, to return for haunting."

"Reformation worship seems particularly counter appropriate on such an evening."

First, costumes. Whether they are bought or homemade, they should be fire resistant. Parents should look for "Flameproof" labels when purchasing costumes, masks, beards or wigs.

Also, costumes should be short enough so children won't trip on them, and light and bright enough to be clearly visible to motorists on dimly lighted streets.

Children can carry flashlights — or reflective tape can be sewn on their costumes, he comments.

Masks and other disguises should not restrict vision or breathing. Plastic bags over faces can cause suffocation. The safest mask is a natural one made of cosmetics or charcoal applied directly to the skin.

Another precaution is to be sure that candle-light jack-o-lanterns are not set on doorsteps or other places where children may brush against them.

Do not let children carry candles or other open flame, even inside a pumpkin, Dr. Francis urges.

Lions—

"If the Lions are really sincere in their concern over Jim's memory, what would be better than to have the business continue in operation? Every customer that walks into the store remembers him. The sign Perdue Furniture serves to remind all of us of him."

"Every part of the building contains a special meaning to Sonny and me. The daily conduct of the business is a constant reminder of Jim's presence. The salesmen that walks into the store remember him and talk about incidents in his life at the store."

"It is not necessary to dedicate a building to Jim's memory that already has 25 years of his life bound up in every part of it. That building will always be a part of him."

"Do not let a few members shoulder you with the responsibility of putting Perdue Furniture Co. out of business."

Don't let them make a mockery of the building, the Lions and Jim's memory by using his association with the Lions and the family's emotions as a lever to persuade sale of the property to them.

"The negotiations between myself and the family were all conducted in the open. The final agreement made and accepted by the family was basically as set forth in a proposal made through the family's attorney. It included my assumption of all obligations of the business."

"The obligations of the business and payments to the family over a period of years amounted to approximately $120,000. I still intend to honor that offer and have so indicated in a letter. If that offer is accepted, I plan to remodel the store and operate a business that Jim and I would both be proud of. What would serve his memory better?"

John Perdue said the brothers agreed that when one died the survivor would have first chance to buy the property and the business from the heirs.

Negotiations began in April, having been delayed until then by hospitalization and the absence of an attorney, and terms were accepted in May, he asserted.

After that, John Perdue said, he ordered insurance, paid real estate taxes, paid most suppliers' bills, agreed on negotiations to begin in April, having been delayed until then by hospitalization and the absence of an attorney, and terms were accepted in May, he asserted.

Safety hints

A responsible older person should accompany young trick-or-treaters and keep them constantly in sight.

Before children go out on Halloween, they should be cautioned against running across lawns or backyards where they might trip or fall in the darkness.

They should also be warned against dashing into the street from between parked cars, and against eating the treats they collect until the candy, apple and other "goodies" have been carefully examined by an adult. In recent years, there have been incidents of hazardous substances being hidden in treats.

Dr. Francis points out that under new legislation signed by Governor James R. Thompson on Aug. 13, "a person who knowingly gives to another person any food that contains any substance or object that is intended to cause physical injury if eaten, commits aggravated battery." Aggravated battery is a Class III felony.

Hearn was advised by police that even being in possession of stolen items was enough basis to be charged.

Madison High School Career Day Thursday

Additionally, representatives of each of the Armed Forces will be available Thursday to answer questions concerning service careers.

Each student will be able to talk to four different representatives during the afternoon program, he noted.

An assembly of all junior and senior students will be called prior to the separate visitation periods.

Will this substitute fuel win the big energy race?

By MARY BRASE
It's definitely methane in the beginning, but a research professor at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is experimenting to change the waste in five days to methane gas, a substitute fuel that is a possible winner in the energy race.

Panos Kokoropoulos, associate professor of civil engineering, checks the pressure and the dials before taking a reading of each night's production in the basement laboratory of the SIUE Science Building.

Each day for two years, Kokoropoulos, Associate Professor Marian Bengtson and other members of the research group have meticulously recorded results of the tests to find a regular, predictable and cost-efficient way to produce methane gas from waste.

The experiment, funded by the engineering department and the Center for Urban and Environmental Research and Services (CUERS) at the university, is designed to deal with two problems — finding a fail-safe disposal system for wastes and a renewable source of cheap energy. Kokoropoulos believes he can use one to supply the other.

"We started with horse manure," Kokoropoulos said, but tests showed the manure from beef cattle was "best." The researchers have also tried cornstarch, hay and other waste materials.

Fresh, green cornstarch produce as old, dried stalks, Kokoropoulos said, but production also depends on the season of the year. In the spring, when animals eat fresh grass, the manure produces twice as much methane as in the winter.

The idea of making methane from wastes is not new, Kokoropoulos admits, but to produce the gas commercially, the process must be reliable, reproducible and efficient.

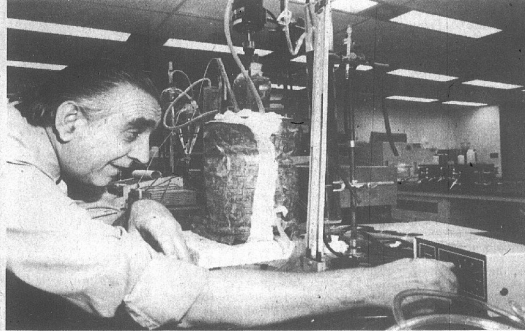

"Some cattle applications of the principle can be found in farms in the area, and others have used the technique for years to process sludge before disposing of it. But nobody ever thought of studying it from a chemical point of view," he said.

"You could mow your lawn to make methane to heat your garage," he said. "It's no problem. You could do it now."

"If the process can be perfected commercially, methane could easily supply up to 25 percent of the university's gas requirements," he predicts.

"It could be pumped directly to a gas line or be held in storage tanks. There are lots of possibilities."

In the laboratory, the gas is simply burned each day after it is measured. To make it, he dumps the raw material into a closed glass container of micro-organisms used as a digester.

"The living cells use the waste as food," he explains as he opens the insulated wrap to look inside. A small motor mounted above the bottle's neck turns a blade inside to keep the solution constantly mixed.

"They breathe and multiply, and the product of their metabolism is new cells plus methane gas plus carbon dioxide."

The inert organic matter left, made up of unusable food and dead micro-organisms, goes back to the land and makes an "excellent soil conditioner."

Kokoropoulos said micro-organisms have the same life process as other beings, and when they get old, they cannot eat as much, and they eventually die.

"We try to catch them at the growth period. We do not want old people in there because they cannot perform. We gamble on controlling the actual bio-process. We provide good food to keep them in good condition so they will slave for us."

"The chemical process also gives off heat which researchers have learned to use to keep the temperature inside the digester stable. The entire experiment works in the absence of air and does not begin until the oxygen in the jar is absorbed first.

"When that happens, the micro-organisms don't have enough to breathe and must adjust to the environment."

"They get used to the environment without air and then the process begins."

Kokoropoulos said he could evacuate the bottle in the beginning, but this way, "we let the bugs do it free."

A paper reporting the results of the first year's work was presented to a professional meeting at the University of Missouri at Rolla last year by both scientists. Kokoropoulos said a pilot project to test the process on a large scale is possible if a grant can be approved. The cost remains questionable.

"We are not sure of the cost because the problem is transportation," he said. "Twenty-five miles is the limit. If the raw material is more than 25 miles from the processing plant, the cost becomes prohibitive."

"To avoid that cost, the plant could be moved to the center of a cattle feeding area, but it is difficult to find a concentrated supply. Even the local stockyards and race tracks do not accumulate the necessary quantities because the animals are in and out too quickly.

"To make the system work on a large scale, we have to know we can do the same thing over again. We have to know how much raw material will make how much gas, and we have to know how much will be in the tanks tomorrow."

Kokoropoulos said. "We have to make an optimum process."

"Will methane be the fuel of the future? We have to elucidate all the problems first before we can say we have found a solution."

Laywer sued Workshop for women

A suit has been filed in Madison County Circuit Court against Attorney H. Carl Runge Jr. and the Runge and Gumbo law firm of Collinsville.

The suit was filed by Gregory Bohnenstiehl, administrator of the estate of the late Marie Keel, and by Marvin and Loretta Bohnenstiehl.

It is alleged that Mrs. Marie Keel died May 18, 1975, and Runge was engaged to handle the probate and settle the estate.

It alleges he failed to have her admitted to probate, failed to have an inventory of the estate or to appoint a personal representative of the estate, failed to determine if taxes were due or to advise the heirs that the 1974 taxes had not been paid, and failed to determine that an application for a tax deed had been filed by a bond company for the house, since the taxes had not been paid.

Oct. 18, 1978, a judge ordered the deed for the house, which was worth $40,000 when Mrs. Keel died, be turned over to Omer Troland, according to the suit.

It seeks fair compensation for loss of the house, plus attorney's fees and costs expended attempting to recover ownership of the house.

IRS report form is due

Oct. 31 is the date by which employers must report on Form 941 Social Security and withheld Federal income taxes for the third quarter of 1979, and pay any taxes due, the Internal Revenue Service said. If the quarterly liability (reduced by any deposit during the quarter) is $200 or more, the unpaid balance must be deposited.

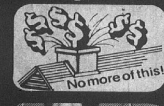

This deadline does not apply to those employers who make timely deposits of the full amount of tax due in Federal Reserve or approved commercial banks. They are allowed until Nov. 13 to file Form 941, "Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return."

If employers have not received Form 941 by mail, they can obtain one from local IRS offices. IRS Publication 15, "Circular Employer's Tax Guide," is also available at local offices.

Solar research continuing here

A physics professor at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been awarded a $26,500 research grant by the U.S. Department of Energy and SIUE to continue his solar energy research.

Arthur Braundmeier of New Douglas received the funds for an experiment to use copper oxide and aluminum for collector panels on a photo thermal absorber. The mechanism works in visible sunlight and absorbs the sun's energy to produce steam which generates electricity.

The researcher said the copper oxide and aluminum combination is expected to allow the absorber to operate at both low and high temperatures, up to a maximum of 500 degrees centigrade. It would be an improvement over present absorbers which are capable of operating at low temperatures only and tend to degrade when subjected to continuous direct sunlight, he said.

Braundmeier is also experimenting with the related problem of long-term service. "The nagging problem with present systems is a tendency for photo thermal absorbers to work a year or two and slowly degrade," he said.

A buyer, usually a power company or other producer, would need more stability than that, Braundmeier said. If perfected, the copper oxide and aluminum panels are expected to allow enough stability to give maximum operation for a 15 to 20-year life. "It would give buyers their money's worth," he stated.

Photo thermal absorbers could easily be operated in the sunbelt states to produce energy for air conditioning, but they could also be used to heat homes in the north he said. In parts of Minnesota, for example, weather records show 320 clear days a year.

Braundmeier is also experimenting with alternative substitute materials for solar cells which produce electricity directly from sunlight.

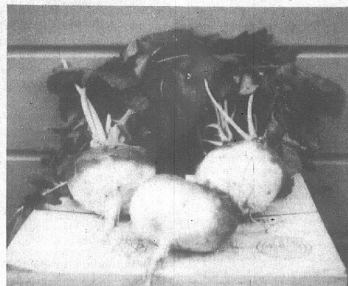

"All we do is hook up the wires to the panels. Silicon is used now to recharge all the batteries in the space program and it works fine," he said. "We just can't afford it as homeowners or consumers."

BURGLARY WATCHED

Two young men in their early 20s stole a television set, a stereo, blank checks, $10 cash, two letters containing checks and an eight-pack of soft drinks from the home of Raymond Sampson, 2909 rear Buxton Ave., last week. A neighbor saw the burglary in progress and notified police, but the men were gone by the time police arrived. A door had been kicked open to gain entry.

Grant to Kutana players

The Illinois Arts Council has awarded a $6,000 grant to the Kutana Players, the drama component of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's Performing Arts Training Center in East St. Louis.

The grant, which will total $7,775 with extra funding from the Performing Arts Training Center, will support the Kutana Players through Aug. 31, 1980.

The Kutana Players usually consists of 16 students, under the direction of Ralph Greene, a member of the SIUE faculty. The fall production will be Jorge Diaz' "Topography of a Nude," which will be entered in the American College Theater Festival in December.

During Southern Illinois

University at Edwardsville's winter quarter there will be a production for children, Jack Stokes' "Wiley and the Harryman." Spring quarter will see the production of Henrik Ibsen's "Ghosts." Green also plans to do one or more experimental shows written by members of the Players themselves. "These shows are designed to be more experimental both in content and form," he said.

Trials opening in Schooley stabbing

The first of three young men charged with stabbing John O. Schooley, 24, of 2620 E. 27th St., in the parking lot of Charlie's Restaurant July 21 is scheduled to go on trial tomorrow in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville.

Preliminary motions in the trial of Dennis McIntosh, 27, French Village, have been disposed of by Circuit Judge Victor J. Mosele, clearing the way for jury selection to begin tomorrow morning.

Among the motions Mosele denied were a motion to move the trial out of Madison County and a motion to disqualify all of the judges of the Third Judicial Circuit from hearing the case.

A motion to try the three defendants separately, due to different defense strategies, was allowed.

McIntosh and the other two defendants are charged with attempted murder, aggravated battery and armed violence.

Schooley is the son of William Schooley, attorney for the Granite City School Board and Granite City Township.

The 24-year-old Schooley was walking in the north parking lot of the restaurant preparing to enter the lounge when three young men in a car yelled at him, police were told. Words were exchanged and as Schooley walked toward the lounge door, the three got out of the car and stabbed him repeatedly.

He suffered five stab wounds to his body and neck and is recuperating well, after spending two days in intensive care, officials said. He has been out of the hospital for some time.

Scheduled to be tried separately after McIntosh are Larry Eugene McKenzie, 28, Highland, a former Granite City resident, and John E. Ashburn, 26, of 208 Warson Lane, Mitchell.

There's a new attitude in America, typified by Proposition 13. Americans aren't opposed to helping each other, but they are opposed to bearing the ever rising costs of government. And many of them have decided to put a lid on taxes.

That means that in many places across the country, the government may be doing less than it has been up until now.

Less for people in need of help. Less for everyone. And that means the United Way is going to have to stretch itself further and more efficiently than ever before, or a lot of people who desperately need assistance of one kind or another are simply not going to get it.

Will the United Way be there to give that assistance when it's needed?

That's up to you. Now, more than ever before, the United Way needs your help.

Thanks to you, it works. For all of us. United Way

Issue city licenses, reluctantly

Granite City has had no choice but to grant free solicitation licenses to members of the Unification Church (followers of the Rev. Moon) to solicit funds in the city.

Mayor Paul Schuler said a Supreme Court ruling classifies the "Moonies" as a recognized religious organization and city ordinances allow free solicitation licenses for recognized religious organizations.

"The fact we have granted them licenses does not mean that we support or endorse their cause," Mayor Schuler said, adding, "We simply had no other choice."

Throngs Pack Library And New City Hall At Dedication Ceremony

City, County and State Dignitaries Attend; Hear Judge Jesse Brown and Mayor Victor J. Miller.

Spectators filled the new Public Library and City Hall buildings at the formal dedication of the two civic edifices Wednesday afternoon. A number of public officials of Madison County and neighboring cities were in attendance.

Preceding the dedication ceremonies, a luncheon was given by the Business and Professional Women's Club at the Y M C A, which was attended by many industrial leaders in this community, visiting and local public officials, and the speakers on the afternoon's program.

The Honorable Mayor M. E. Kirkpatrick presided at the luncheon and introduced prominent industrialists and public and business men present.

Mayors of six cities were present. Mayor Ford Gersbach of Madison, Mayor George W. P. Nichols of Collinsville, Mayor J. H. Smith of Edwardsville, Mayor Tom Butler of Alton, Mayor John Hamilton of Wood River, Commissioner E. E. Davis of the Illinois State Senate, and State Senator Norman O. Flagg were also present.

Dedicate Library. At 1:30 o'clock, at the conclusion of the luncheon, where a large crowd had already assembled for the dedication. The public dedication was opened and the speaker in turn of part of the afternoon.

After an overture by the Community High School Band under the direction of Edwin Smith, the library board made an introductory address relating attention to the new City Hall and Public Library.

In 1919 a move was initiated by Mayor M. E. Kirkpatrick, who was mayor at that time, for the installation of a public library building and a new city hall.

Mayor was much and enthusiastic about the new buildings. The new city hall and public library were the first public buildings in the city since the old city hall and public library were built in 1880 and 1885.

Through many the public library has grown into all new, after the old city hall and public library were built in 1880 and 1885.

At the conclusion, he introduced Mayor George W. P. Nichols of Collinsville, who made the opening address, stressing the importance of the new buildings.

"Material assets we have and want have, but we need an efficient government which only a public library can give us," he said.

"The new city hall and public library are the first public buildings in the city since the old city hall and public library were built in 1880 and 1885."

In the dedicatory address, W. H. Smith, editor of the Democrat Herald and president of the Democrat Library Board, emphasized the co-operative spirit necessary to provide an institution. Like a public library, he complimented Granite City upon the realization of a hope (read in silence) years ago, and added that the library will foster the cultural spirit here.

Miss Anna May Price, State Superintendent of Library Extension, Mayor Victor Miller of St. Louis, and the Rev. E. W. McCluskey of Lebanon, Ill., a former pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here, were delivered the invocation and benediction, were other speakers.

At the close of the library dedication ceremony, the crowd moved to the new city hall building where the Honorable Mayor M. E. Kirkpatrick presided.

Following the invocation by the Rev. John Henry Sanders, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and an overture by the Community High School Band, Mayor Kirkpatrick gave a brief address on the history of Granite City.

He pointed out that the city received its charter on May 6, 1894, and in spite of its comparative infancy has succeeded in becoming one of the steel centers of the nation.

The first city council met in what is now the Walnut Railroad station. Then a small two-room office building was erected on the corner of Main and Grand streets. Later a brick building, between the two streets, was constructed on that spot, and the rooms on the second floor used as a jail and city hall. This building soon became known as the city hall although primarily built for the first department.

He reminded the spectators that the new city hall building is the first erected exclusively as a city hall.

Circuit Judge James B. Brown of Edwardsville made a plan for the new city hall building, and presented a plan for the new city hall building, and presented a plan for the new city hall building.

Warriors get revenge on North

Press-Record Sports

GRANITE CITY (Ill.) PRESS-RECORD, Monday, Oct. 29, 1979—11

By KEVIN ALLEN of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — After a first quarter in which Granite City South scored three touchdowns to lead Granite City North 21-0 Friday night, it became necessary to think back two weeks and remember that North had beaten South 21-14.

But as they say, "Those mistakes'll kill ya".

A cliché was never more true. Three North turnovers. Three South touchdowns—all before the second quarter.

After the high-scoring beginning though, South quieted. Despite a late touchdown and earlier threatening drives by North, the Warriors held on for a 21-7 win.

"I certainly wouldn't want to do this every week," South's head coach Stan Wojcik said referring to preparing for North. "These past three weeks have been a strain on emotions."

The dominant emotion on the North side of the field was frustration. By the time the Steelers finally scored with 1:41 left in the game, only a small portion of the previously large crowd of North fans remained to witness.

"They didn't do anything that was so great," North's head coach Tom Wyrostek said, after the disappointing loss. "It was just our mistakes that beat us."

That the mistakes were costly was self-evident. The first occurred during the game's second play from scrimmage. South's Ron Gusheff brought North quarterback Dan Patterson down with a tackle on North's 22-yard line. The ball came loose though, and South's Doug Spalding recovered on the 12-yard line.

Seconds later, Hondo Ambuehl passed 10 yards to South's Kevin Greene in the end zone for the Warriors' first touch down. John Vrenick's extra point made it 7-0 with less than two minutes gone in the game.

North's second possession of the ball ended with similar results. After a return of South's kick off following the first touch down which brought the ball to the Steeler 42-yard line, and an illegal motion penalty that moved it back to the 38, North again fumbled.

This time running back Kevin Buchanan lost the ball, and South's Lee Huebner recovered on North's 43-yard line.

A long drive that featured consistently strong running by South was capped by Scott Polson's five yard plunge off the left tackle, with 5:14 remaining in the first quarter. Again Vrenick's kick was good, and South led 14-0.

The final touchdown of the quarter and game for South followed a Warrior interception.

South had moved the ball for a first down in three plays following the kick off, but gave the ball over on the next series.

Facing a third and 13 situation, North quarterback Dan Patterson dropped to pass. South's defensive line closed in fast, and Patterson lofted a wobbly air that ended up in the hands of South's John Vrenick.

The Warriors took over on the 42-yard line, and Ambuehl moved quickly into scoring position.

The Warrior quarterback took the ball on an option play and headed around the left end. He high-stepped his way through the line and broke open in the North secondary. Only Rich Buer's tackle from behind saved a touch down.

That just delayed things though, because two plays later Ambuehl passed to Huebner in the right corner of the end zone, for an 11-yard touch down. The extra point put South on top 21-0.

Both teams were quiet until just before the end of the third quarter, when a fumbled snap by South produced good field position and some hope for the Steelers.

North finally got on the scoreboard late in the game with a 76-yard run by Dudley. The converted quarterback took the ball at the North 17, went off right tackle, spun from a South tackler at the 20, and ran free down the leftside line for six points. The extra point made the score 21-7.

Sudden death kills Steeler playoff hopes

By PETE HAYES Sports Editor of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Opportunity knocked here Saturday for the Granite City North prep soccer team.

In fact, it darned near beat the door down. But try as they might, the North Steelers couldn't answer.

A sudden-death penalty kick by Collinsville's Todd Sachtleben sealed North's fate after nearly four hours of knock-down drag-out soccer, giving the Kahoks a 1-0 win over North for the championship of the Granite City North 1-0 winners Saturday over Belleville West, Tuesday at 1 p.m. in the first round of the North Sectional round-robin tournament. In the other first round game, Quincy will face Alton.

Thus, Collinsville became the only Illinois team to be able to conquer the Steelers this season. Earlier, it beat North 2-1 at Collinsville. North bowed out of competition with an 18-3-2 record. It won't be the last game of the season for North, however. The Steelers will host Cahokia Nov. 5 in a makeup game to see if they will win the Gateway East Conference championship out-right or have to share it with Granite South.

Saturday, North had numerous opportunities to take the game early. The Steelers controlled the flow of the game and seemed to be able to pass at will against the Kahoks.

The best scoring opportunity for North came with 13:09 remaining in the game. Forward Mark Jones had the ball on a breakaway in on Collinsville goalie Bob Belobraydic. With teammate Mike Robertson streaking in all alone on the right side by himself, Jones had a decision to make. He could either try to take the ball in himself and try to score or risk a pass over to Robertson. He used his first option. Belobraydic managed to get a hand on the ball and tip it inches wide of the net with Jones nearly right in on top of him.

"We had some great chances early in the game," said North coach Bob Kehoe. "At halftime, I didn't think that not being able to capitalize on them had bothered the team, but it may well have."

What Kehoe referred to was a "let-down" of sorts in his team after the beginning of the second half. Collinsville seemed to gain momentum and control the tempo. But the Kahoks couldn't break through into the scoring column.

With the score tied 0-0 at the end of regulation, the game went to four 5-minute sudden-death periods. The first team to score would be the winner. Neither did.

The net's not to say neither had its chances. In the first overtime period, North goalie Tracy Hickam stopped a shot by Collinsville 27 seconds into the stanza. After an uneventful second period, North mounted two serious scoring threats in the last two frames.

With 4:05 left in the third overtime period, Robertson had the ball all alone in front of the Collinsville goal. He fired it right at Belobraydic who made the save. Then with 2:15 left in the final OT period, Jones had a similar alteration with Belobraydic.

Then came the penalty kicks. Each team scored on every one of its five tries, but Collinsville almost didn't. Kahok Joe O'Donnell just about sent the North fans home happy when he hit his team's first attempt off the left goal post. But it ricocheted into the net past a stunned Hickam. On the fourth Collinsville attempt, Mark Massa's shot was caught by Hickam, diving to his left. But the referee ruled Hickam had moved before the ball was touched by Massa. He was given another shot and made it.

Then came then fateful sudden-death penalty kicks. On the third attempt, North's Jones had his shot along the ground grabbed by Belobraydic. It looked amazingly similar to Hickam's save during the first set of kicks.

On the next attempt, Sachtleben made good on his attempt and the game was over.

"Justice was served," said Collinsville coach Jim Stranz. "We had plenty of chances to take the game early in the second half. A connection here or there and we would have gone home earlier."

A distraught Kehoe spoke with reporters after the game. "This is the last chance for 10 of these guys,"

NORTH'S DAN FITZGERALD and Mark Massa of Collinsville (right) go for the ball Saturday during North's sudden-death overtime loss to the Kahoks. Collinsville won the North sub-sectional with the victory and will face Granite South Tuesday in the North Sectional.

South dominates but settles for 1-0 win

• Photo, Sectional preview page 12.

By KEVIN ALLEN of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — There was a certain tension building for two and a half periods in the final game of the Granite City North sub-sectional Saturday night.

On the field, Granite City South and Belleville West were playing scoreless soccer, and in the stands thoughts of overtimes and penalty kicks were growing more serious.

But all that ended when South's David James scored with a 24 left in the third period to give the Warriors a 1-0 lead.

With the one goal, South went on to beat the Maroons and emerge as one of four teams to participate in the Granite City North sectional tournament next week.

South will face Alton, Collinsville, and Quincy Senior in the round-robin sectional. The winner will earn a trip to the Illinois State Soccer Tournament.

Before entertaining any notions about retracing the steps that have led to three consecutive state championships for South, however, the Warriors first had to deal with the Maroons.

And when James punctured the growing balloon of tension with his goal, dealings with West had the makings of a drama that never occurred.

What made matters worse was the fact that South was doing everything but putting the ball in the net. Several times in the first two and a half quarters the Warriors came within "ooohing" distance of scoring.

But each time the result was the same. Whether outstanding play by West's keeper Mike Howard, shots that missed the goal by the width of the goalposts, or on-the-spot defenses by the Maroons, South was frustrated time and again.

On the sidelines South's coach Gene Baker knew it was only a matter of time before those shots went in. "It'll come, it'll come," he assured his Warriors following the oh-so-close shots.

And sure enough, James proved Baker right. It was fairly typical of the Warriors' play all night. A South throw-in dropped in the midst of a gang of players in front of the West net.

There, Greg White picked up the ball and sent a in a shot from the right side. Howard made the stop, but he ball bounced back out to the left side. There, James found the rebound and sent in a low shot past Howard into the right corner of the net.

The shot legitimately beat Howard, who, at times, held the Maroons in the game almost single-handedly.

According to his coach, Gary Carr, Howard's performance was illustrative of his talents. "In his high school career," Carr said, "I think I've seen maybe five balls get by him that shouldn't have."

But James' shot was obviously one that should.

Only once in the game, did West assemble an impressive attack. Just minutes before the buzzer signaling the half, the Maroons displayed an ability to effectively move the ball into and around in South's end of the field. The moment was short-lived and unproductive though, ending with the half.

The other 78 minutes of play was South-dominated. The Warriors sent 27 shots at the West goal, compared to only one by the Maroons. Corner kick statistics were equally lopsided. South had 13, West had none.

"We just outplayed them minute per minute," Baker said. "We're really pleased with the effort."

"The pressure of the tournament and there 6-5 goalies made it a little difficult, but we had the pressure on from the start."

Carr, remembering the 0-0 score of the only other meeting of the teams earlier this year, thought South was ready for his Maroons.

"I expected we gave them the battle they thought we would," he said. "But they just took our game away from us. They beat us to the ball and we were slow to react."

"If they play like this for the rest of the tournament, I can easily see them going all the way."

Baker too thinks the Warriors are ready. "We feel we're in the best condition as a team as we've been in all season. We seem to grow more each game."

South will open the North Sectional Tuesday at 1 p.m. against Collinsville, 1-0 overtime winner over Granite City North Saturday afternoon (see related story). Thursday, the Warriors will play at 1 p.m. against Quincy. Saturday, they will play Alton at approximately 2 p.m.

Warrior harriers going to Sectional

EDWARDSVILLE — The runners were recovering from the three-mile race at the Class AA District 16 Cross-Country Regional meet in Edwardsville, Saturday, when O'Fallon coach Bob Nesbit approached Granite City Coach Dick Harmon.

"Got your reservation for Alton Dick?" Nesbit joked.

"I hope so," Harmon answered.

But the Warrior coach wasn't sure if his team had qualified for next week's Alton Sectional meet until the official scores were posted.

Only the top five teams at the regional meet would go on to Alton, and when Harmon saw Granite City South marked on the fourth spot of the final list, he was assured of the trip.

A score of 122 was good for fourth best in the meet, behind Alton with 57, East St.

Louis Sr. with 402, and O'Fallon with 110. Belleville West finished fifth with 138 points.

Before the meet, Harmon figured the Warriors' finish could range from as far back as eighth to as high as fourth.

"According to the season we had, I thought we'd come in somewhere in there," he said. "We were lucky to come in fourth. We'd never beaten (East St. Louis) Lincoln or Highland before during the season, but today we beat both of them and West too."

Dave Houston's time of 15:30 was good for third place individually in the meet. But according to Harmon, Houston's lofty finish wasn't the key to the Warriors' qualifying.

"You expect Houston to be way up there," he said. "You have to get good races from the others if you want to do well."

Two of the others were Jeff Taylor and Tim Geisler. Taylor finished 17th at 16:19, and Geisler was 23rd at 16:27.

Granite City North finished ninth in the 15-team meet. The Steelers' top finisher, Bruce DeRuntz, finished qualifying by four seconds, finishing 18th with a time of 16:50.

JACKSONVILLE — Alton High's soccer team advanced to its first sectional tournament ever here Saturday by whipping Jacksonville 4-0 in the championship game of the Jacksonville Sub-sectional tourney.

Joining the Redbirds at the Granite City North Sectional will be the Quincy Blue Devils, who edged Peoria Bergan 2-1 in Peoria for the championship of the Quincy Notre Dame Sub-sectional tournament.

Also gaining berths in the round-robin sectional were defending state champion Granite City South and Collinsville. South beat Belleville West 0-0 Saturday after Collinsville upset Granite City North for the second time this season, 1-0 on sudden-death penalty kicks (see related stories).

Tuesday at North, South will face Collinsville at 1 p.m., followed by Quincy vs. Alton. Thursday, South vs. Quincy at 1 p.m., followed by Alton-Collinsville. Saturday, Collinsville-Quincy at 12 p.m., followed by South-Alton.

In Alton's game with

Jacksonville, Tom Walters got the scoring started early, with an unassisted goal just 36 seconds into the game. Tom Hays scored a goal on an assist by Darrin Jones. Redbirds John Warden and Tim Weeks scored to round out the scoring.

Quincy advanced to the sectional with a 15-6 record. Three of its losses have come at the hands of the other three teams in the tournament. Granite City South blasted the Blue Devils 5-0 earlier this season. Collinsville downed them 2-1 and Alton defeated them 3-1.

Alton owns a 2-1 victory over Granite South this season. Collinsville has defeated Alton, but lost 1-0 to South two weeks ago.

The Granite North Sectional will be a round-robin affair. Each team will face every other once. Other games will be played Thursday and Saturday, beginning at 1 p.m. each day.

This marks the seventh straight year South has advanced to the Sectional Tournament (no school other than one from Granite City has ever won a down-state sectional championship). In 1972, the school won the state championship as old Granite City High School. In 1973, South placed third. In 1974, Granite City North advanced to the state finals. In 1975, it was South.

In 1976, South began its string of three straight state championships by beating Wheaton Central 4-0 in the title game at Maine East High School in Chicago.

In 1977, the Warriors whipped Chicago Schurz 6-1 for the championship at Huskie Stadium at Northern Illinois University in DeKalb. Last season, South beat Evanston 1-0 for the crown at Illinois State University in Bloomington-Normal.

Last season, Granite North and South finished the round-robin sectional at North with identical 2-1 records. But South defeated North during the tournament and advanced by virtue of that win.

South started that tournament by losing 1-0 to a surprising Belleville West team. South then beat both North and Quincy Notre Dame.

This year, pairings for the first round of the tournament are made on basis of total points accumulated by teams remaining in contention. South is the points-leader among the four with 168. Alton is next with 122, Quincy 114 and Collinsville 90. The "points" are determined by each team selecting a number of games before the start of the season that will be used as "points games." If a team, for example, beats another with a 10-0 record, it will get more points than if it beats a team with a 7-5 record.

The reason Collinsville has no points is that Kahok coach Jim Stranz missed the Illinois High School Association's deadline for turning the selected games in.

Granite North finished as the points leader for the regular season among down-state schools with 186. Quincy Notre Dame was second with 180 followed by South. Jacksonville was fourth with 132. Notre Dame lost in overtime to Quincy Senior 2-1 in the first round of the sub-sectionals.

Alton's 122 points place it in seventh place among down-state schools. Quincy's 114 are good for ninth. Hinkley-Big Rock, which was beaten handily by South early this season, was the top points-getter in the state with 203.

Gabriel, Squires eliminated in state meet

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

The Granite City South doubles team of Laura Gabriel and Susan Squires advanced to the third round of consolation here Friday before falling in the annual Illinois State Girls Tennis Meet.

Gabriel and Squires were defeated by Pat Meek and Angie Bridges 7-5, 4-6, 6-1 in the third round. Earlier, Gabriel and Squires had battled back from a first round loss to win two matches in the consolation bracket. In the first consolation round, they defeated Shari Johnson and Karen Heiser of Stevenson 4-6, 6-4, 6-2. In the second round, they beat Stuckwisch and Jimbo of Highland 6-4, 6-1.

The South doubles team of Susan Bell and Wendy Kelly also advanced to the state finals, but they were defeated in their first two matches.

Andrea Jaeger of Stevenson won the individual singles championship.

'Psych' doesn't help as Madison drops 63-0 decision

By DOUG IRVIN

for the Press-Record

MADISON — Just prior to the start of Saturday's outing with Chatham-Glenwood, Madison gridiron Trojans were psyched up. They ran out of the locker room yelling and shouting, the scoreboard siren sounded, as the band played the Notre Dame Fight Song. No one would suspect that this Madison football team was the same one with the 0-6 record.

But, it's true and Saturday's psyche didn't help as Charles Steptoe's eleven, again, were pushed aside in their 63-0 beating by the Redskins of Glenwood.

The Trojans managed to gain 53 yards — 20 of that was from a halfback pass. Madison tried another "trick" play when they were only 38 yards from six points. They had a fourth down and 14 yard situation and sent in their punter, Shannon Mason, who has a good arm, and faked a punt. The pass was incomplete to a Madison receiver.

Midway through the third period, Madison recovered a Glenwood fumble on the Redskins' 45 yard line. Kerran Blakely took credit for the recovery. On the next play, quarterback Robert Johnson faked back to pass and spotted a hole. On the keeper, he advanced the Trojans to within 34 yards of the line. They went nowhere else.

Scoring for Glenwood were: Quarterback Ken Carver on a seven yard run (4:47); Carver, 37 yard run (9:58); Jeff Maddux, 5 yard run (14:05); Rich Pfeiffer, 11 yard run (18:40); Mark Hand, 28 yard pass from Carver (20:02); Roy Denton, 7 yard run (27:04); Jim Brunson, 7 yard run (34:27); Carver, 7 yard run (37:22); and Mike Little, 19 yard run (47:51).

All conversion kicks were good by Troy Kemp, 63-0.

"When we get behind," said Steptoe, "we are our biggest enemies. We expected to play 'em tough, but our tackling just didn't show it."

"We only have four or five seniors including Johnson (QB). We'll be older next year, but hurting at quarterback," said Steptoe.

This Saturday at Freeburg will be Madison's last game of the season and they will attempt to win their first game.

Others looking good this fall include: Trenton's Dan Ritzheimer, Mascoutah's Steve Griffen, Edwardsville's Bob Buehler, Bethalto's Rich Deis, Belleville West's Mike Moore, and Granite City North's Jeff Stamper and Dick Awalt.

Back up for Koff will probably be Tom Greco, a standout freshman from Granite City's North High.

EDWARDSVILLE — After nearly one month of hard workouts, Coach Gary (Bo) Collins of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville baseball squad is almost ready to name his starting lineup for next spring's greatly expanded baseball schedule.

When the fall diamond workouts began in September, Collins was greeted with upwards of 50 hopefuls but with only two returning regulars who finally made the starting nine: infielder

Larry Maden and pitcher-outfielder Tom Ritzheimer. Collins' choice to pitch for his starting lineup was southpaw John Mueller of Morton Grove, Ill. His other hurlers, in the order he now ranks them are: Ritzheimer, freshman Ted Smith, returnee Brian McFarland, newcomer Kent Taylor, and returnee Doug Gremaud.

Freshman Dave Well, from Granite City, is looking good as a possible relief pitcher.

Rape a crime of violence; most cases here prosecuted

More and more, rape is being understood as primarily a crime of violence, intended to do psychological and physical harm to the victim as a symbol of those whom the individual hates.

This being the case, investigative authorities and the courts are taking a much more balanced view of the issue, contrasted with the past situation in some states in which the victim was seen as sharing in the guilt.

It used to be that many women were intimidated by the fear of public ridicule, and most who were assaulted did not even report being molested. Of those who did seek prosecution, many victims were in effect "placed on trial" themselves and confronted with numerous personal questions intended to give them the appearance of immorality.

As noted, increased awareness of rape factors has led to more considerate treatment of victims, a higher level of formalized reporting and investigating of the crime, and increases in arrests and prosecution.

To the extent that recent regional newspaper and television coverage has helped alert women of all ages to the real perils they face, the spotlight on sex crimes is highly beneficial. Large numbers are affected by rape or the possibility of rape occurring, limiting individuals' ability to travel about with a feeling of freedom and safety.

We take issue with one report of a 275 percent increase in Granite City rapes; just as the case in industrial profits, only a slight change can be interpreted statistically as vastly significant, through percentage applications.

Of the five rapes reported in Granite City in 1976, one was cleared by arrest. The next year there were four cases (one each in February, June, July and November), with three of the four leading to arrests. In 1978, total rape reports reached 11 (one each in January, February and October and two each in April, August, September and November). Of these, nine were cleared by arrest.

Thus far in 1979, rapes have been tallied in January (1), July (2), August (3) and September (1). Of the seven, four have been cleared by arrest. Arrests, of course, do not always result in punishment. And even when there is a conviction and an appropriate sentence, it does not undo the harm suffered by the victim.

But it is a step forward that a once hushed-up subject is now out into the open, and that people are aware of its true nature, in most instances—crimes, unjustified abuse of another human being's physical and emotional well-being.

Unity essential in meeting the chief needs of this area

Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission—Local elected and appointed officials attending the annual policy seminar of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission (SIMAPAC) identified the need for an areawide consensus on major issues as the top priority problem facing Southwestern Illinois.

The October seminar was sponsored by SIMAPAC to give mayors, county board members and other elected and appointed officials who serve on commission committees an opportunity to discuss the region's major problems and potential solutions. The outcome of the sessions was a call for unity in addressing common problems.

The 28 officials who attended recommended that the leaders of Southwestern Illinois identify a limited number of major issues facing their constituents, prioritize them, and then concentrate collectively on seeking resolution of the issues.

It was also recommended that the process of finding acceptable answers to areawide problems include a complete analysis of locally available solutions, along with a search for state or federal aid.

It was pointed out that a local solution may be more cost-effective in some cases than seeking outside financial assistance which carries a number of costly restrictions.

As part of the call for an areawide attack on high priority problems, they recommended that residents develop a greater degree of local initiative in pursuing answers to their problems. It was explained that other, more organized areas of the state and country are outdoing this region in aggressively attacking their problems and attracting new employment.

As a part of the drive to improve local initiative, the local leaders agreed that Southwestern Illinois should ensure that the area's needs are understood by legislative and congressional leaders in Springfield and Washington.

Another recommended part of the effort to improve local initiative was a drive to improve the image of local governments as problem solvers and facilitators of development and redevelopment.

The seminar group identified as major issues that should be addressed by officials on a unified basis:

1. The problem of flooding, ponding and stormwater runoff which has long plagued the region.

2. Safe and efficient disposal of solid and hazardous waste.

3. An areawide push for economic development.

4. The need to demonstrate Southwestern Illinois' natural advantage as a location for synthetic natural gas processing with an actual project.

5. Development of an inventory of existing information on the region's man-made and natural resources for use by both the private and public sector.

6. The need for local officials to have timely information on state and federal programs and policies.

7. The need to coordinate the different modes of transportation in the region so they function more efficiently; and to advertise the region's advantages on a local, state and national basis.

These issues, along with the call for a unified approach by local leaders, will be addressed by the commission in coming months through the development of its 1980-81 fiscal year work program and through its committee structure.

Asks for explanation of threat

To the Editor:

Contrary to the front page Oct. 25 Press-Record article entitled "Alderman is Warned," I did not criticize the police and fire departments. But in defense of the street department, what I did say is that the fire and police departments have nearly 50 percent larger budgets and 33 percent more personnel than the street department, and instead of increasing their numbers, as Mayor Schuler has done over the last six years, we should be beefing up our street department.

Currently, our street department has only 31 men to not only take care of all our streets and alleys but our entire city sewer system as well.

Everyone knows what the recent winters have done to our streets. Our street department doesn't need the criticism that precipitated Mayor Schuler's outrageous conduct.

What they need is more men, and more money to replace the worn-out equipment they now must use.

I would like to relate the whole story behind the exchange of words between Mayor Schuler and me. It began with a letter addressed to the council from the assistant fire chief which implicitly criticized the street department for failing to pick up limbs that some residents have piled on the streets.

I stated what I have already said earlier; that I thought our street department should be funded at least as much as the fire and police departments, considering its overwhelming job responsibilities.

I then concluded that I didn't think the assistant fire chief should be throwing

This letter is a common political tactic which at any other time I would have dismissed as "just some more politics." But in my opinion this very same tactic was being going on for all too long.

You see, Lionel Portell, our street superintendent, supported Mayor Schuler's opponent in the last mayoral election. Ever since then, the mayor has tried, of course, to dispose of or discredit Lionel.

For example, after the election from an elective to an appointive one. However, Granite City citizens became outraged and by vote margin of 10 to 1 supported the right-to-vote referendum overturning that ordinance.

Yet, even today, Schuler and his friends still try to discredit Portell. But back to the original story.

Appropriately, after the letter was read, the council, nearly every alderman supported or defended Portell. This must have already heated the coals under Mayor Schuler's temper, because I was the last to speak before Schuler erupted in his tirade.

I stated what I have already said earlier; that I thought our street department should be funded at least as much as the fire and police departments, considering its overwhelming job responsibilities.

I then concluded that I didn't think the assistant fire chief should be throwing barbs at the street department when I've gotten reports that he himself often doesn't give the city a full day's work.

That may or may not be true. I didn't say I was positive of that allegation, but that I had received phone calls from several citizens informing me of that.

All I did was give Mayor Schuler a little of his own medicine, and obviously he couldn't take it.

Indeed, the exchange between Schuler and I was unfortunate because the result will not better our city government.

City officials, even though politically nonaligned, cannot expect to fulfill their public trust by abusing each other only for personal revenge.

But if the mayor, as he intimated, has something on me, then I openly challenge him to expose it. I have nothing to hide. Threats to remove me from office don't scare me, but some of his remarks seemed to go a bit further.

I think he should explain to all Granite Cityans what he meant by "not the way you're going to be gone" and his response that it is "a promise, the truth" to my question of whether that last remark was a "threat."

I think he owes an explanation to me, my family, and the many citizens who support my political thinking.

The third vehicle was driven by Mrs. Pauline E. Robertson of 3124 Ash Ave.

The eastbound Barnes auto allegedly proceeded to cross Illinois Route 3 at the intersection of West Pontoon Road and apparently did not see the Buckels and approaching northbound on Route 3.

Buckels applied the brakes, causing his auto to slide and strike the Barnes auto broadside; in turn, the Barnes auto spun around and struck the Robertson auto that was stopped at the intersection westbound on West Pontoon Road.

5 SHOTS FIRED

Jim W. Matheny, 61, of 2215 Lincoln Ave., was arrested on the rear porch of his home at 8:35 p.m. Sunday and was charged with discharging a firearm in the city limits. Neighbors reported hearing five shots fired and police checked the neighborhood, finding Matheny on the porch with a small pistol beside him. Five spent rounds were found in the gun.

Matheny said final guidelines for the project which will involve the use of Community Development funds were reviewed Friday morning in a meeting at the Venice City Hall, attended by city officials and representatives of Madison County Community Development groups.

Among changes in guidelines decided upon during the meeting was to establish a maximum of $7,500 for loans instead of a $10,000 maximum considered earlier.

Decided upon during Friday's meeting will be coordinated and reviewed by Community Development representatives to clear the way for initiating the program in about three weeks.

Venice city officials already have about 20 loan applications on hand for consideration of home improvement programs when funds become available.

Venice has about $100,000 available for housing rehabilitation that was made available about a year ago, but which has not been used. It also has about $55,000 which became available for 1979.

An additional $85,000 is expected to be allotted July 1 this year.

A car stereo, two speakers in wood cabinets, 12 tape recordings and a plastic tackle box containing tools were stolen from the car of Robert Matthews, 2210a Grand Ave., parked in his back yard between midnight and 2 a.m. Wednesday. The right vent window was forced open to gain entry.

3-car crash injures two

Two drivers were injured in a three automobile collision at Illinois Route 3 and West Pontoon Road at 7:30 a.m. Friday.

Lester Buckels, 29, of 81 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, was treated and released at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for pains to the neck and side.

Tammy Barnes, 17, of Rural Route One, was treated for a one inch cut behind her left ear, and was X-rayed and released.

Barnes was given a traffic citation for failure to yield the right of way at an intersection. She is to appear in court at 9 a.m. Nov. 30, to answer the charge.

BREAK INTO CAR

A car stereo, two speakers in wood cabinets, 12 tape recordings and a plastic tackle box containing tools were stolen from the car of Robert Matthews, 2210a Grand Ave., parked in his back yard between midnight and 2 a.m. Wednesday. The right vent window was forced open to gain entry.

Matthews said final guidelines for the project which will involve the use of Community Development funds were reviewed Friday morning in a meeting at the Venice City Hall, attended by city officials and representatives of Madison County Community Development groups.

Among changes in guidelines decided upon during the meeting was to establish a maximum of $7,500 for loans instead of a $10,000 maximum considered earlier.

Decided upon during Friday's meeting will be coordinated and reviewed by Community Development representatives to clear the way for initiating the program in about three weeks.

Venice city officials already have about 20 loan applications on hand for consideration of home improvement programs when funds become available.

Venice has about $100,000 available for housing rehabilitation that was made available about a year ago, but which has not been used. It also has about $55,000 which became available for 1979.

An additional $85,000 is expected to be allotted July 1 this year.

3-car crash injures two

Two drivers were injured in a three automobile collision at Illinois Route 3 and West Pontoon Road at 7:30 a.m. Friday.

Lester Buckels, 29, of 81 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, was treated and released at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for pains to the neck and side.

Tammy Barnes, 17, of Rural Route One, was treated for a one inch cut behind her left ear, and was X-rayed and released.

Barnes was given a traffic citation for failure to yield the right of way at an intersection. She is to appear in court at 9 a.m. Nov. 30, to answer the charge.

The third vehicle was driven by Mrs. Pauline E. Robertson of 3124 Ash Ave.

The eastbound Barnes auto allegedly proceeded to cross Illinois Route 3 at the intersection of West Pontoon Road and apparently did not see the Buckels and approaching northbound on Route 3.

Buckels applied the brakes, causing his auto to slide and strike the Barnes auto broadside; in turn, the Barnes auto spun around and struck the Robertson auto that was stopped at the intersection westbound on West Pontoon Road.

Things to know about wood-burning stoves

By LARRY LAPPIN
Extension Adviser

Are you thinking of installing a wood-burning stove in your home this fall? Are you confused by the many different stove types, styles and sizes?

Here are a few tips on buying wood-burning stoves from University of Illinois Housing Specialist Don Jedele.

Before buying a stove, consider whether it will be used for supplemental heat, for heating the entire house or for a conversation piece. The cost of installation must also be considered. Knowing how you will use your stove and how much you want to spend will help you decide which wood stove to buy.

When looking for a stove check for sturdy construction. Look for cracks, faulty legs, door hinges and draft louvers. Evaluate the stove's ability to burn wood efficiently for maximum heating.

Remember to install your wood-burning stove away from combustible materials. The stove and stove pipe get very hot and can set fire to combustibles near it.

For a more complete guide to stove installation, check your local building codes.

Also available from the Extension office is a publication entitled "Burning Wood" which covers topics such as wood as a fuel, fireplaces, stoves, furnaces, and installation. "Burning Wood" is available at 75 cents per copy from Madison County Cooperative Extension Service in cooperation with the Illinois Institute of Natural Resources.

Hillsboro, Box 227, Edwardsville, Ill. 62025. If you are interested in other information on home energy conservation, please ask for a list of energy publications from this office. These home energy conservation facts are from the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service in cooperation with the Illinois Institute of Natural Resources.

Production record at GC Steel

Granite City Steel has set another production record on its 80-inch hot strip mill.

During the 4 to 12 p.m. turn on Oct. 24, the mill rolled a total of 5,304 tons of steel coils, surpassing the previous record of 5,143 tons in a single turn. The old record was set Aug. 9, 1978.

In reaching the record total, crews operated at a rate of 663 tons an hour, breaking the old record of 642.9 tons an hour for one turn.

GC Steel president James V. Slack commended the employees involved in seeking the new record.

October 6, 1979, will probably stand as a red letter day for the financial community. What occurred caused monetary and financial tidal waves likely to be felt for sometime. The following week, prime interest rates leaped a full percentage point at some of the largest banks and the price of gold took a nose dive, leveled off momentarily then zoomed to record highs. The stock market had its largest one-day loss in five years and set an all time record for the number of shares traded.

Prior to October 6th, the goal of the Federal Reserve Board had been to attempt to slow inflation by influencing the interest rate as directly as possible by effectively controlling a key barometer called the Federal Funds rate. Now the emphasis of the Fed is to directly control the supply of money. Moves they took to accomplish this included increasing certain reserve requirements of member banks and announcing a hefty increase in the discount rate. Both actions should result in restricted monetary growth. Nonetheless, only time will tell whether the drastic policy change will pay off in cooling down the hottest inflation we've seen.

DAR women hear U.S. defense topics

The October meeting of the Drusilla Andrews Chapter of the DAR (Daughters of the American Revolution) was held at Burns Cafeteria, with 15 members present.

Mrs. Emma Schoen, regent, led the opening ceremonies followed by the pledge to the flag and Mrs. Florence Simpson read the president general's message.

Miss Ella Ray Smith presented three national defense topics.

One presentation compared the reading skills of American youth with those of U.S.S.R. youth, with America being second best. Another topic dealt with problems the Army has with pregnancy among servicewomen. The third topic dealt with SALT II and members were urged to write their congressmen asking them to vote against the treaty.

Misses Mae McCormick, Mildred McCormick and Eva Renfro and Mrs. Mary Weishaupt were welcomed into the local chapter as they transferred their memberships from the Collinsville Chapter of the DAR.

Miss Nelle Hart, chairman of the motion picture and television committee, urged members to keep track of good and bad programs and to exercise their opinions

Two quilts were exhibited, one a family quilt made during the Civil War.

Another was a quilt of flags from all nations which was made from tobacco bags. A fragile tablecloth made from the finest linen material and featuring large insertions of Battenburg lace also was shown. Distance and packing problems prevented Miss Candler from bringing some of her favorite items, but the group heard about them.

LACE BOUQUET

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL NIKONOVICH, who were united in marriage at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church. The bride is the former Miss Lori Ann McNew, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McNew of Granite City.

Lori McNew weds Michael Nikonovich

Miss Lori Ann McNew, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McNew of Granite City, became the bride of Michael Nikonovich Sept. 28 in an evening ceremony at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

Bouquets of white gladiolus and blue carnations decorated the altar as Father Henry Schmidt performed the double ring ceremony.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Nikonovich, also of Granite City.

Sister Virginia of St. Elizabeth's provided accompaniment on the organ for Katherine Clay.

The bride selected for her wedding a white polyester gown with an Empire bodice. The sweetheart neckline and the long fitted sleeves were accented with seed pearls. Venice silk lace trimmed the hemline of the pleated skirt and the Chapel train.

Her Juliet cap of matching lace and seed pearls secured a fingertip veil. She carried a nosegay of blue snapdragons, white sweetheart roses and baby breath.

Maid of honor was Judy Kieffer and bridesmaid was Wanda Bailey. They chose identically styled sky blue A-line gowns with flared skirts and sweetheart necklines. They carried nosegays of lavender asters and blue snapdragons.

The groom chose his brother, Steve Nikonovich Jr., to serve as best man. Donald McNew Jr., a brother of the bride, was the groomsmen.

Ushers were Glenn Schubert and David Cantrell.

The bride's mother, Mrs. McNew, chose a mint green qiana dress with long fitted sleeves and a high neckline. Her corsage was made of pale green elegance carnations.

Mrs. Nikonovich, the groom's mother, wore a shrimp colored qiana dress with a cowl neckline and a blouson bodice. She wore a corsage of peach elegance carnations.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the parents of the groom in the home of the groom's brother.

St. Mary's parish center was the setting for the reception.

The bride is presently attending Granite City High School North. Her husband graduated from North High in 1976.

The couple is now residing in Granite City.

Creative Women finish first year

The Creative Women Home Extension Unit held its October meeting at the home of Joanna Spencer as the group celebrated the end of its first year this month.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Belinda Johnson. All members received new programs from the Cooperative Extension Service outlining plans for the 1979-80 year.

Margaret Buske and Louise Ware gave the lesson, "Social Security and Supplemental Security Income." Treasurer Sylvia Massman gave a report, and stamps and birthday pennies were collected by Margaret Buske.

Judy Baker gave a report on a membership meeting which she and Belinda Johnson attended. The unit is hoping to get at least four new members this year.

Joanna Spencer gave a report on the unit's 4-H club, the Fifty-Eighters, stating that the club had a window display at Johnson's Music Store during National 4-H Week and that the display received an "A" rating.

The district meeting and "country store" will be held Nov. 19 at Hope Lutheran Church. All members are to bring a white elephant item with a price tag. Theme of the district meeting will be "Vacation Spots in Illinois."

For the December meeting, all members decided to bring canned goods for distribution to a needy family in lieu of a unit gift exchange.

A survey form was completed for ARLA Ault, to return to the Home Extension office, as an evaluation of 1978-79 programs and ideas for future programs.

As refreshments were served by hostesses Joanna Spencer and ARLA Ault, a game was played and the winner was Diane Gehhardt.

Other members attending were Donna Warren, Sylvia Massman, Martha Leavelle and a new member, Lucille Schaefer, and one guest, Jane Parkinson.

"Where Finer Homes Are Listed &amp; Sold"

3268 WILLOW: Spacious 3 BR brick & frame with 2 bath's, family rm., with fireplace, kitchen with built-in range, oven, dishwasher, intercom throughout, elegant living rm., with dining area, full basement, 2 car garage, not to mention your enclosed patio room.

PARK AREA: ONLY $34,900 puts you into this newer 3 BR ranch with full basement. Full carpet & central air. Please—no FHA or VA.

1635 5TH—WOW! $7,000 buys this 5 rm. home, needs some fixing. Just think a "Home"—Less than a new car.

SOMETHING TO REMEMBER . . .

Many of you homeowners out there remember when the interest rate on the home you purchased was 4% percent—SURE YOU DO—and, as time moved on, the interest rates slowly but surely—escalated for an average effective commitment rate of 11.22 percent on 75 percent of loans with a term of 25 years. WELL . . . "I've got some GOOD NEWS and some BAD NEWS" for those of you in the "Home Buying" category. The "GOOD NEWS" is many of you potential "home buyers" will benefit financially within 3 years by purchasing a "home of your own" NOW, even at rates quoted. MY RECOMMENDATION TO YOU . . . DO EVERYTHING POSSIBLE TO BUY A "HOME OF YOUR OWN" NOW . . . BECAUSE 12 PERCENT and 13 PERCENT HOME LOAN RATES ARE ONLY A FEW MONTHS AWAY. The "BAD NEWS" is the home you'd like to own will cost more the longer you wait—be it new or existing. Material products and labor costs produce a "home unit" or multiple units will reach even more staggering dimensions. "THE AMERICAN DREAM" can still be reality if you are committed and determined to make it happen for yourself. ALWAYS REMEMBER . . . NOTHING HAPPENS UNTIL YOU MAKE IT HAPPEN. And that's the way it is October 29, 1979.

One percent across-the-board cut in county budgets proposed

Madison County department members may be operating with one percent less funds next year than they have this year if the finance committee's recommendation for an across-the-board decrease is accepted next month.

County board member Fred Dalton, a finance committee member, said the county will have $300,000 less than it needs to fulfill department requests in 1980. The county is expected to receive $1.07 million from taxes and other revenue sources. The county departments, however, have requested a total of $11 million.

This Saturday, the finance committee decided the only equitable way to deal with the situation is to cut all departments by one percent from last year's budgets. Several solutions have been posed in the past weeks, including tax increase for county residents, and as much as a three percent across-the-board cut for all departments.

24 BAC Madison courses

Belleville Area College has announced general studies and transfer courses to be offered this spring through the Madison Extension Center.

General studies (non-transferable) courses include: Prepare Your Income Tax; Beginning Midwest Dance; Disco Dance; Photography I and II.

Know Your Car: Home Air Conditioning and Refrigeration; Beginning Sewing; Intermediate Sewing; Interior Design; Upholstery; Woodworking and Furniture Refinishing; Cake and Food Decoration I; Conversational Spanish; Art, Drawing and Painting; Physical Fitness; Auto Body Repair; Auto Mechanics; Small Gas Engines; and Advanced Heating and Air Conditioning.

Credit courses include: Shorthand I; Typing I; General Psychology; and Elementary Spanish. Schedules containing all information about spring registration at the main campus and the extension centers will be sent out to all homes in the district in the second week of November.

Finance committee members strongly objected to a three percent decrease and were able to get around it by cutting some line item expenses from the general fund and subtracting $8,000 from the jail budget.

"We didn't think they'd be in the new jail until around February," Dalton said. "So we decided we could cut that money because they probably won't use electricity or anything in there for the first month."

But even with the line item cuts, Dalton said one percent across-the-board cuts were still needed.

Taxpayers can expect an increase in their taxes next year, but Dalton said it should be a negligible amount.

The county will be levying two new taxes for the general fund this year, which would cost taxpayers up to five cents per $100 assessed valuation. But at the same time, the committee is decreasing the budgets of the special tax funds.

Therefore, while the general fund tax is going up, the special taxes should be coming down, Dalton said. The committee is hoping the increases and decreases will just about even out so taxpayers will pay the same overall tax as this year.

Dalton said one of the new taxes is needed for the general fund pay for the consolidation of elections which was mandated by the state this year.

"This is going to be an expensive thing for us this year," Dalton said. "The state has determined we can levy three cents (per $100 assessed valuation) to cover the additional costs of these elections."

The second new tax allowed by the state is for workman's compensation. Dalton said he doesn't know how much will be levied for this item, but said the committee hopes to keep it to a bare minimum.

He estimated it would be about one to one and a half cents. Dalton said he personally was not in favor of the one percent across-the-board cut for the special tax budgets. He said he would rather have the committee go through the budgets line by line.

"I feel some of the departments may have a budget that is real good, real close, and others may have a little bit in them. An across-the-board decrease will just hurt the departments that are real close," he said.

Nameoki Township Trustee Adams' statement at meeting

continues to whip a dead horse issue only to keep her name in print in the belief that by so doing she will remain in the public eye and enhance her future election endeavors.

It might be possible that she may have underestimated the intelligence of the voters of Nameoki Township in such a manner that her tactics could be her demise in future elections.

STATEMENT B — Mrs. Hawkins' petition to invalidate the election of the Board of Trustees to appoint her to the vacant unexpired term left by Mr. Norm Hessler: Mrs. Hawkins has implemented the following procedures to enhance her appointment by the Board of Trustees:

1. Presented the Board with a petition consisting of approximately 785 signatures stating that she should be appointed.

Certainly petitions are the right of any taxpayer and aren't generally given any consideration by elected officials, when properly utilized. However, when used to intimidate, threaten, or coerce elected officials, they may also be considered as a threat. Mrs. Hawkins personally stated to me, "That if she were appointed, she would be in the office of the state's attorney."

2. Mrs. Hawkins also communicated with a state legislator, Madison County judges and various other county officials requesting they use their political influence to put pressure on the township Board to assure that she be appointed.

3. Called precinct committeemen, called a meeting, and requested they place pressure on the Board.

4. Appeared before the Trades Council, talked for approximately two hours requesting they place pressure on the Board of Trustees.

5. Called the township office and requested employees to pass out petitions. (This places employees in a very difficult position. If the true beliefs cannot be emphasized, only fear that refusal may result in reprisal. Present Board members have never requested employees to pass out petitions but have accepted them when volunteered.)

6. Article in Press-Record that stated that Citizens For Better Government recommended your appointment. I suggest that as chairman of this organization, this endorsement may border on self-endorsement.

7. Under the impression that had Mrs. Hawkins sought this appointment ethically and presented her case and request for consideration to the township Board rather than attempt to force the Board, she may well have been appointed.

However, no elected official can accept being forced into a decision, but I would not believe the board would decide issues with the belief that as public officials, their decision will reflect what is best for the township. I would not believe the decision must be made through force. Elected officials who make decisions based on threat or coercion usually have put themselves in a bad position. In conclusion, I apologize for the length of this dissertation, but believe it was necessary to set the record straight.

W. LEE ADAMS, Trustee
Nameoki Township

Mrs. Hawkins' reply regarding township issues

Open Letter to W. Lee Adams: I, the undersigned, who served as Nameoki Township Board lost its equilibrium when I brought up the convention cost again this year (first published in the Press-Record and in the Nameoki News, 1977) because this is not a new issue. I also wonder why all the authors did not sign the letter instead of just one.

I will respond to your brief as possible to your statements A and B.

STATEMENT A — Cheaters at the township 1977 election. Public statements were made to several newspapers by Supervisor Harold Davis after the discovery recount. Davis said, the outcome of any court suit would be to give Helen Hawkins the right to keep Jerry Adams' name in the public eye. I don't
